Animal teamwork

What kind of creatures?

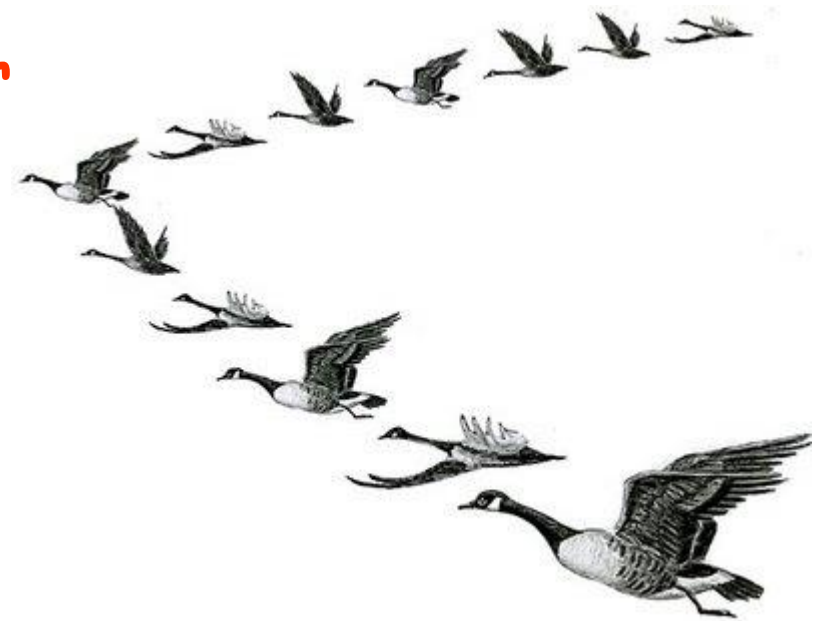

Geese fly together in a V because:

- It gives them lift
- It protects them from the force of the air
- Together they can fly 70% further

If we work together, we can:

- Encourage each-other
- Get more done

If a goose leaves the V...

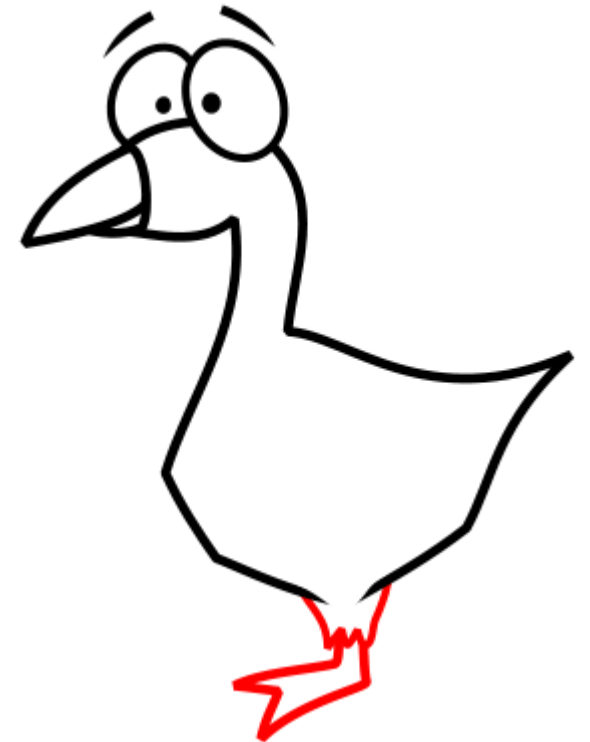

It needs more energy and effort to fly alone

It has no protection

If we leave a group, we may:

Find it harder to do things

Feel alone

Geese change leaders because:

- The leaders get tired
- They need a rest
- It keeps the team strong and fast

Groups can change leaders because:

- Leaders need a rest
- Leaders have to do other things
- Sometimes different skills are needed
- We can learn leadership skills

Geese honk at each other because:

- They need to communicate with each-other
- They need to keep going the right way

Teams need to communicate well to:

- Keep working well together
- Know when they need to help each-other
- Make sure they achieve their goal

Geese help each-other

If one goose is ill, shot or injured, 2 others will:

- stay with it
- protect it from predators
- wait till it can fly again

Groups work best when they:

- Care for each-other
- Help each-other

Teamwork helps geese to:

- Fly faster
- Fly further
- Use less energy & effort

Good teamwork helps us to:

- Do more
- Do it more quickly
- Do it more easily
